

In Palm Beach

past the mansions facing God's smashing blue ocean, a coy Angel darts in front of my rental car, lights a cigarette in a blinding gazebo. Fleeing, no doubt, some rich tableau. Despite the risk of Cancer, we should all join her.